

Contributor Registration FAQ

Q: When will I get my contributor code?

The timeframe for receiving your registration discount code will vary based on the program you have been accepted to. Once you have been accepted as a contributor to a program, you will receive an email notifying you that you are required to complete Stage 2 in the SIGGRAPH Submission Portal System (Linklings). The Stage 2 form will ask for the name and email of the contributor who should receive the registration discount code for that submission. If a submission receives multiple uses of a code, it is the responsibility of the contributor who received the code to determine who will use the discount code for that submission. The contributor receiving the registration discount code will be sent this code approximately two-and-a-half weeks after their submission has been accepted.

Q: "I didn't want to miss the deadline, so I registered anyway just to be safe."

1. The "discount code" will be applied to the early-bird registration rate regardless of when registration is completed.
2. If a contributor receives a registration discount code after registering, they should contact registration at: registration-s2023@siggraph.org and let them know they have received the registration discount code. Registration will apply the discount code to the early-bird rate and provide a refund.

Q: There are X of us presenting, but the code is only good for Y people.

There is a specific number of registration codes allocated for each submission type. Additional discounts cannot be provided.

Q: Who is eligible to use the code provided for my submission?

Only those listed as contributors/authors/contacts with a submission are eligible to use that code.

Q: How do I find my registration code?

The contact you provide when you fill out the Stage 2 form after acceptance will receive the information for the registration codes. That contact will receive the code to be shared among the contributors.

Q: Whom should I contact for registration help with the code?

Contact registration-s2023@siggraph.org.

Q: I submitted to two programs and was accepted. Can I combine the codes from each?

If you have more than one accepted submission, discount codes CANNOT be combined for a larger discount. Only one discount code can be applied to each individual registration record.
